9th October, 2020

During this lockdown and work from home scenario VIVA Institute of pharmacy held one student engagement program with ACG associated capsule pvt. Ltd. under the conveyor of principal Dr. Sunita Ogale and event management by Dr. Vaishali Shah and .Sushruta Mulay.

The chief guests of the meeting were Ketan Parmar, Dr. Jnanadeva Bhat and Ankita Solanki the representative from ACG Worldwide.

With the presence of more than 105 students and faculty, madam Leena Amanna addressed the magnificent work of speakers in the webinar. 1st Sir Ketan Parmar with experience of 25 years in manufacturing and development gave information of history and development of ACG capsule industry in its earlier days and various branches and industry plants across the world. He also gave rough idea about their production and machineries used in industry. Then the well-known personality in association with VIVA, Dr. Jnanadeva Bhat with 25 years of experience in pharma and nutraceuticals with research and development and many more academic achievements. He gave wonderful information about different capsulation and encapsulation technique, capsule filling machines they imply in the industries. They also gave the information about current market scenario about generic and branded drugs along with companies involved. Madam Ankita Solanki the well known for white paper and publication and R&D with 3 years of experience gave the theoretical information about different types of capsules including solid capsules, liquid capsules, capsules containing more than one component along with DPI'S and new drug delivery systems.

The main moto of this student engagement program was to give student information about global production and market about capsules under ACG. To give brief idea about the new methods and techniques including new machineries used in capsulation and encapsulation and discussing the student faculty doubts about the information. Vote of thanks was done by Sushruta Mulay on the behalf of VIVA institute of pharmacy after completing the student speaker interaction.
