Northeastern University, Boston, MA, USA

Being a part of the first official batch at VIVA was a unique and memorable experience. It was a time of new beginnings, innovation, and the establishment of a culture of excellence. VIVA's commitment to providing quality education and fostering a conducive learning environment set the stage for my journey into the world of pharmaceutical sciences. The faculty at VIVA Institute of Pharmacy deserves special mention. Their dedication, expertise, and mentorship were invaluable in shaping my academic journey. The institute's well-structured curriculum, coupled with a focus on practical learning, equipped me with the knowledge and skills necessary for success in the pharmaceutical field. Additionally, the faculty supported us in curricular activities and intercollege competitions, such as Hitaishi and Rx. This role supported me in conducting health campaigns and blood donation drives. It was a valuable opportunity to apply the principles of public health and contribute to the well-being of the community. The institute supported me throughout, and the guidance and encouragement from the faculty were instrumental in the success of these initiatives.

After completing my Bachelor of Pharmacy at VIVA, I embarked on a fulfilling career in Regulatory Affairs in Mumbai. I had the privilege of working in this dynamic field for three years, and I am proud to say that my education at VIVA played a significant role in my professional development. Building on the strong foundation laid at VIVA, I pursued a Master of Science in Regulatory Affairs at Northeastern University. The four years of Bachelor of Pharmacy at VIVA Institute of Pharmacy have been a very transformational journey for me, one filled with deep reflection, internalization and experience.

With the support from faculty members, I was able to not only maximize my learning experience but also take part in meaningful discussions in and out of the classroom. Apart from academics, the college had always tried to give its students the best co-curricular and extra-curricular activities that are needed for their life and career, and this makes you stand out from the crowd.

The didactic teaching method, highly inspired by our faculty members, always motivated me to ask meaningful questions in the class and as a result, I was able to receive a very thorough and in-depth understanding. Upon further introspection, I now realize that the immersive classroom experience, backed up by the psychologically safe learning environment, always motivated me to strive for excellence as an individual and also helped me grow as a very dynamic team player in meeting deadlines collectively as a group.

Last but not the least, it goes without mentioning that the hands-on learning experience at the laboratory, challenged the breadth of my knowledge, thereby enhancing my skill sets. The cumulative learning experience in class and in the laboratory, has helped me to grow conscious of the stakes that pharmacy and medicine – individually and together – have on the lives of people. It made me aware of the inevitable paradigm shift in the understanding and the scope of pharmacy in the lives of people, which is no doubt, broadening.
