Programme Summary/Details:

On October 15, 2018, VIVA Institute of Pharmacy has celebrated Vachan Prerana Din, with great enthusiasm. The aim of the event was to promoting a culture of reading, 48 dedicated NSS volunteers actively engaged and motivated students to cultivate the habit of reading. Their enthusiastic efforts not only encouraged students but also instilled a passion for books. As the NSS coordinator, I witnessed firsthand the positive impact of this initiative as students were inspired to explore a greater number of books, fostering a love for literature that is invaluable for their personal and academic growth. This collaborative effort between volunteers and students exemplified the potential of collective action in nurturing a lifelong commitment to reading and knowledge acquisition.
